

Tasmanian Times –
Phone: 60178142

Want to have a say?
Send us a letter for publication

Tasmanian roads
latest alerts & rep

ARTS

A Journey to Freedom exhibition opens at TMAG

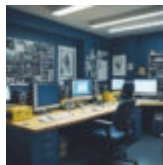

By Editor

Posted on June 7, 2018

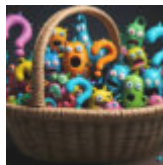

A new contemporary art exhibition exploring issues relating to incarceration opens today, as part of this year's Dark Mofo Festival. A Journey to Freedom presents a range of thought-provoking artworks providing audiences with an opportunity to reflect on the nature of imprisonment

LATEST NEWS

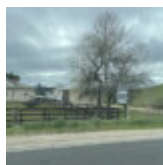

CURRENT AFFAIRS

Join Us In The Tasmanian Independent Media Association*

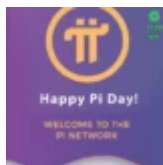

CURRENT AFFAIRS

The Too Hard Basket

CURRENT AFFAIRS

The Rotten Core – Audio Edition by Nick Feik

Get Started in Cryptocurrency Mining Pi Coin for Free

ECONOMY

Invest and/or Raise Funds with OnMarket

No PDFs!

at both a personal, local and global level.
Guest curated by Swiss born Barbara Polla, A Journey to Freedom brings together new and recent works by contemporary national and international artists working across installation, sculpture, video, photography and virtual reality.

The exhibition is presented across the museum's temporary galleries and transitional spaces, with a special late night opening featuring a performance by Tasmanian sound artist, Matt Warren.

I am delighted that TMAG is once again partnering with Dark Mofo and MONA to present this exciting new exhibition.

A Journey to Freedom opens from 6:00 pm with additional late night openings programmed throughout the festival between 15-17 June and 21-23 June.

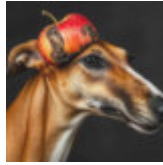

The exhibition continues at TMAG until 29 July.

For more information, please visit:

www.tmag.tas.gov.au

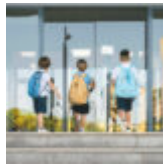

Elise Archer, Minister for Arts and Corrections

RELATED ITEMS:

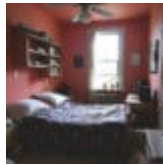

CURRENT AFFAIRS

'Bad Apples' Report
Damns Greyhound Racing

STATEMENTS

Schools Funding Deal
Announced, Teachers'
Union Not Happy

CONSUMER AFFAIRS

Lowest Earners Priced Out of Rentals

KNOWLEDGE

Artificial Intelligence for Society & Science – Why Should You Care?

CURRENT AFFAIRS

Govt Backs Away from
Tasman Bridge Path
Upgrades

RECENT COMMENTS

Ted Mead on Hobart Sets Climate Action Goals

Ted Mead on Aerial Survey of Deer & Kangaroo Numbers

Craig on More Evidence of Salmon Hatcheries Polluting Rivers

TO TOP

ABOUT TASMANIAN TIMES

Tasmanian Times is an independent media platform for news, analysis, discussion and creative content by and for Tasmanians. We seek to facilitate a broad range of views and to encourage prosperity, harmony and sustainability on our island(s).

RECEIVE OUR WEEKLY TAS ROUNDUP

First Name

Last Name

Email

Subscribe

